

TOP MEDIA HITS 2016

This year, our bold ideas made it into hundreds of news outlets around the nation and across the globe. We earned extensive coverage ranging from commentary on the 2016 election, to new multimedia reporting on our studies and analysis, to news of long-fought victories in El Salvador against a mining company, and in Illinois for domestic workers rights. On the 40th anniversary of their assassination, the legacies of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Karpen Moffitt lived on in stories told at the Washington Post, the Nation, The Intercept, and more.

Between our own experts and our independent media platforms that disseminate progressive analysis and reporting, we're changing the world one idea at a time. Here you see a sampling of our diverse mainstream and alternative print media hits highlighting our commitment to peace, justice, and the environment.

We thank supporters like you for helping us reach new audiences.

- On Billionaire Bonanza, "America's Stacked Deck," The New York Times, February 18, 2016
- On Wall Street Bonus Pool, "The Warning in Wall Street Pay Days," The New York Times Editorial Board, March 9, 2016
- Interview with Janet Redman on the Clean Power Plan, "The Court and Coal," Al Jazeera, March 17, 2016
- Interview with Phyllis Bennis on Donald Trump's foreign policy speech, "Expert: Trump policy speech was 'word salad'," MSNBC, April 28, 2016
- Manuel Perez-Rocha on Pac Rim Mining Case in El Salvador, "El Salvadorans Don't See Mine as Golden Opportunity," The Wall Street Journal, May 6, 2016
- Janet Redman provides testimony at the DNC Platform Committee Hearing, C-SPAN, June 9, 2016
- On Ever-Growing Gap, "It Will Take Black Families 228 Years to Amass the Same Wealth as Whites," BET, August 16, 2016
- On Wall Street Bonus Pool, "This simple cartoon shows how US taxpayers help make rich bankers even richer," Vox, September 6, 2016
- Interview with Sanho Tree, "Bolivia ended its drug war by kicking out the DEA and legalizing coca," Vice News, September 21, 2016
- On Military vs. Climate, "We have money to fight climate change. It's just that we're spending it on defense," The Guardian, October 8, 2016
- On inequality and Trump, "Inequality Gave Rise to Donald Trump's Presidency," The Nation, November 9, 2016
- John Cavanagh and Domenica Ghanem on divesting from pro-pipeline banks, "Force the Banks Out of Standing Rock," US News & World Report, December 19, 2016